A program of the Appaloosa Horse Club

Instructions for AYA Youth Exchange Application

This Appaloosa Youth Association Overseas Exchange Program ("program") is designed to allow a selected group of Appaloosa Youth Association (AYA) members from Europe and other countries to visit the United States, be hosted by a family in the U.S. for one week, and compete at the Appaloosa Youth World Championships. This program is also designed for a selected group of AYA members from the United States to visit abroad, be hosted by an international family for one week and compete in an International Appaloosa show.

Applicant Guidelines:

Applicants must be current members in good standing of the AYA, and must be between the ages of 14-18 as of January 1st. Applicants must have experience exhibiting at shows, and be knowledgeable about horses and horse care. The ApHC Board of Directors will establish a selection criteria and applicants will be selected for participation by a board committee. Applicants will be notified by mail and telephone.

Program Rules and Conditions of Exchange:

Applicants agree to pay all costs of transportation, passport and visa. Applicants must agree to purchase round-trip airfare for themselves before departing their home country. They must agree to abide by the rules of the program, and accept advice and supervision of their host family. Applicants must be covered by health care insurance acceptable to ApHC and shall provide proof of insurance with their application. Applicants also agree to pay costs for their own health care and emergency costs, should the need arise.

While staying with the host family, applicants are expected to assist with the day-to-day equine chores of the host family, since special time is being taken out of normal equine activities to assist the visiting applicant. The applicant will be expected to help out with general duties at the horse show as well.

Applicants are expected to practice, to be on time for lessons and willing to take part in expected duties and activities, and to have a positive attitude.

Any family or guardian choosing to travel with the youth will be responsible for their own expenses - airfare, lodging, meals, etc.

What the Appaloosa Horse Club will provide:

The Appaloosa Horse Club (ApHC) will cover entry fees for up to three classes per applicant at the Appaloosa Youth World Show or the selected International Appaloosa show. The ApHC will pay for one horse's stall during the show if the horse will be used exclusively by the applicant.

The ApHC will waive the ownership rule for the youth participating in the exchange program so they can show a horse without filing a transfer. ApHC will also pay for a hotel room for the applicant while at the Youth World Show/International Appaloosa show as well as provide a per diem amount to cover meals and incidental expenses.

Host Family Responsibilities:

The host family will be responsible for picking up the applicant from the airport. The host will provide a place to stay and provide meals for the applicant while visiting. The host family will be expected to provide lessons for the youth and provide a horse(s) for the youth to use at the Youth World Show/International Appaloosa show.

All efforts will be made to match the show discipline of the host and applicant. The host family will supply the visiting youth with appropriate show halters, bridles, saddles/pads, and other necessary tack for use during the show. The host family will provide domestic transportation for the applicant to the Youth World Show/International Appaloosa show.

Interested hosts will be selected through an application process, must submit references, and will be subject to a background check.
